Petitioners oppose Venice liquor shop

By VALERIE EVENDEN
Staff writer

VENICE — More than 400 signatures have been collected in opposition to a proposed package liquor and convenience store being located in the 1000 block of Fourth Street, Venice.

Triple that number of signatures and more are expected before the petitions are submitted to the Venice City Council, Carolyn Wilson informed aldermen last week.

"THE TRAFFIC and clientele that such a business would attract would create problems in the neighborhood. We are vehemently opposed to a liquor license being granted at that location," Mrs. Wilson said Friday.

The petitions being circulated ask the City Council and mayor to reject any liquor license sought for a proposed store at 1015 Fourth.

At Tuesday night's council session, Mayor Tyrone Echols again stressed, "There has been no application (for a license) to come across my desk, so far." The mayor is liquor commissioner for Venice.

"I HAVE A YOUNG lady and a son in school and I am concerned about them. And I think we have enough taverns in the city of Venice," Mrs. Wilson said.

She also asked if the council could rescind an ordinance enacted last May which increased the number of liquor licenses permitted in Venice. Third Ward Alderman John Ervin replied, "The petitions you are circulating will weigh heavily with the aldermen in this regard, and the amount of people signing them will be considered."

SILVER FRANKLIN also addressed the council, commenting, "On Weaver Street you had to hire extra police and we don't want to bring the same kind of problems down there. We don't need a second Weaver Street on Fourth Street. "I am a property owner and pay taxes and I think the aldermen should represent us and what we want. I know it means business for the community, but some things are not worth the money."

Applause greeted a comment by the Rev. John Henry Williams, who said the group at Tuesday's meeting "should have been here when it first happened."

He was referring to the May 14 meeting when the number of available licenses was increased from eight to 15 on a 6-2 vote by aldermen.

"I STILL THINK we can stop what is going on in the community. I want it stopped and these people do, too," the minister said.

Rumors have been circulating in Venice that an individual already in the tavern and package liquor business wants to open a package liquor store at 1015 Fourth, residents say.

Concern about this and also the possibility of video games being installed at that location brought residents to the Sept. 17 council meeting.

"We hope to get many more names on the petitions before turning them in to the council," Mrs. Wilson said Friday.

IN OTHER ACTION at last week's session, Echols reminded residents that new signs are being erected in school safety zones, calling for a 20 mph speed limit. "We will be putting up these signs and we will be ticketing," the mayor cautioned motorists.

The aldermen authorized a building permit for Harold H. Brown, 501 Fillmore St., to construct a frame garage costing about $1,500.

Local teacher finalist for state award

By DAVE WHALEY

It's been said that those who can't do, teach.

That may or may not be true, but for those who can teach, the rewards are great. There aren't many jobs more important than that of a school teacher. Shaping young minds is a challenging task.

Dorina Knight does it well. So well that the kindergarten teacher at Mitchell Elementary School in Granite City has been nominated and chosen as one of eight finalists for Illinois Teacher of the Year.

TED SANDERS, state superintendent of education, announced the finalists Sept. 25. The winner for the 1985-86 school year will be announced Nov. 1 at the State Board of Education's 12th Annual Those Who Excel awards banquet at the Americana Congress Hotel in Chicago.

Knight has already lined up a substitute teacher for that day so she can be in attendance.

"It's an honor to be considered," she said last week in a break between her morning and afternoon classes. "There's quite a bit going into the process of picking the winner."

KNIGHT WAS NOMINATED by her principal, Art Menendez. She was then asked to send in several items to the state.

Knight had to document why she felt she had made a positive change at her school, how she had contributed to the curriculum, student interest and learning environment, her leadership abilities and how she felt she had "gone above or beyond the call of duty."

Also included was a scrapbook including a biography and a listing of her accomplishments and experiences.

DORINA KNIGHT reads her students a book on fire prevention.

"THEY NOTIFIED the superintendent in each district that had winners," Knight said. "And then a public relations person was sent down to do a videotaped interview. They said it would only be two questions, but after those there was another page of questions and it took about 15 minutes."

Among Knight's accomplishments

at Mitchell are an assembly program in place of field trips, a newsletter to which she said she devotes about five hours a week, and

Park director named soon

By DAVE WHALEY

GRANITE CITY — A new director for the Granite City Park District could be named as early as this week.

After several weeks of interviews, the park board has narrowed its choice of candidates for the position to three, according to Board President George Sykes.

Two of the candidates were called back for a second interview Oct. 2 and the third finalist was to be interviewed Saturday.

HAROLD BROWN is currently serving as the interim director, and will stay in that role for at least four more weeks. Dave Nolan resigned as director in June.

"We had interviewed nine candidates to start with," Sykes said. "After that, one of them withdrew his name from further consideration. So the board got together and narrowed those eight down to three."

Sykes said two of the candidates are local people and one is from outside of Illinois.

Asked if the board was leaning towards any one of the three finalists as a "favorite," Sykes said no.

"I THINK WE SHOULD wait until all three of them have had their second interview," he said. "We really want a consensus opinion from the board members before we make the decision. I don't see anybody leaning towards any one of them yet."

The board is not scheduled for its next regular meeting until Oct. 23, but Sykes said a special meeting (SEE PARK DIRECTOR, Page 4A)

Metro East unemployment dropped below the double-digit level, according to the most recent statistics released by the Illinois Department of Employment Security.

A loss of students in the workforce due to the re-start of school helped lower the August jobless level to 9.4

percent, a decline of .6 percent since July.

St. Clair County joblessness fell .8 percent, from 9.8 percent in July to 9 percent in August.

Madison County unemployment dropped .6 percent, from 10.3 percent in July to 9.7 percent in August.

Granite City joblessness remains high, at 11.7 percent in August, but it tell 1.2 percent during the period from 12.9 percent in July.

Belleville's unemployment remains the area's highest at 13.9 percent in August, a 1 percent decline from 14 percent in July.

East St. Louis fell out of double-digit unemployment. The rate stood at 9.1 percent in August, a 1.8 percent decline from the 10.9 percent level recorded in July.

Traveling abused by U.S. employees

WASHINGTON — Those of you lucky enough to take a vacation cruise on a luxury liner this summer are probably still getting the bills. At least you still have the memories and maybe a trace of the sunbats.

What you may not realize, though, is that all of us are picking up the bills for posh ocean cruises taken by government employees. We'll have no memories of the captain's table and moonlight strolls on the promenade deck — only a slow burn as we realize how some federal workers have been abusing the official travel regulations.

You may remember last year's revelation by the General Accounting Office that a U.S. Information Agency employee had stretched ocean travel to include a $14,440 ride on the Delta Queen up the Mississippi for himself and his family on their way home from Uruguay. Rep. Jack Brooks, D-Texas, was incensed by the disclosure. He asked the GAO to do more research on the extravagant home-leave travel that some USIA and State Department employees seem to think is a perquisite of their jobs.

The auditors found that in fiscal years 1982 to 1984, the two agencies spent $556,232 on seagoing travel for 260 employees and dependents. That was roughly four times what it would have cost to fly.

The investigators also found that the Delta Queen wasn't the only floating royalty favored by the agencies' sybarites. A favorite means of traveling or from home seems to be the Queen Elizabeth II, pride of the British passenger fleet.

Travel records reviewed by our associate Tony Capaccio show that 120 State and USIA employees and their dependents booked passage on the Queen as part of their government-paid trips between assignments. The total cost of these luxuriously ocean voyages came to $289,305 — first-class all the way, of course. The cost of airline tickets for the same journeys would have been about $81,000.

Here are some cases of abuse: — A State Department employee took six dependents home to Spokane, Wash., from India by plane and decided to complete the family's circumnavigation of the globe on the way back. They flew to New York, then to the QEII for London and flew from there to India. The cruise on the Queen cost $18,407. New York to London airfare would have been $4,732.

— Another employee and his wife flew from his post in Pakistan to Bangkok, where they embarked on a 19-day cruise aboard the QEII to Hawaii, then flew to Los Angeles for home leave. The Pacific cruise cost $15,050; the couple could have flown all the way from Pakistan to Los Angeles for less than $2,800.

— An employee and three dependents, going home from Madagascar before transfer to Bombay, took the Queen Elizabeth from Southampton, England, to New York. It cost $10,718 for that leg of their trip; airfare would have been less than $2,800.

The trouble is, of course, that while the official regulations encourage employees to take the cheapest and most direct route, the rules do not prohibit travel by sea. That's enough of a loophole for some of our luxury-loving civil servants.

WATCH ON WASTE: Despite the Pentagon's assurances to Congress that it is changing its wasteful ways, the toll of eye-popping extravagance in spare-parts purchases continues to mount. Here are some recent shockers uncovered by investigators for the Senate Committee on Governmental Affairs, chaired by Sen. William Roth, R-Dele.

— The Defense Department paid McDonnell Douglas $2,043 for a plain round nut, which could have been bought at any hardware store for 13 cents, and $145,950 for a standard computer printer that should have cost $28,800.

— Gould Simulator Systems was paid $456 for a half-inch socket worth $1.49, and $599 for a pair of drill bits worth $1.69. Gould was also paid $652 for a tool box that retails for $11.67.

— Sperry Corp. was paid $243 for a circuit breaker that could have been purchased for $11.10.

— Hughes Aircraft was paid $512 for a 48-cent fuse.

If you would like to help control this outrageous waste of your tax dollars, write to Citizens Against Government Waste, P.O. Box 1000, Ben Franklin Station, Washington, DC 20044.

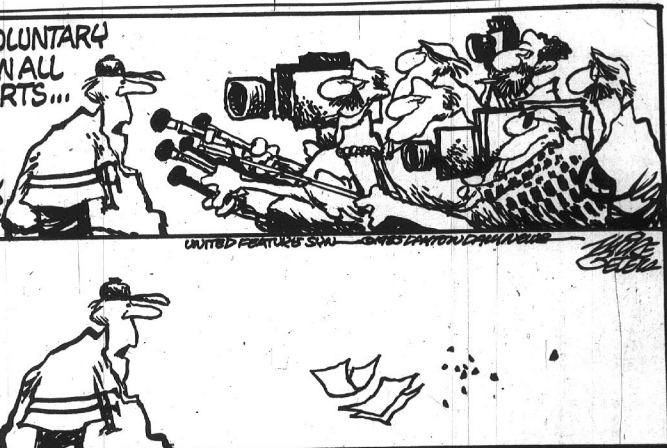

CHUCKLES OF THE WEEK: Members of Congress are under constant siege by lobbyists, constituents, colleagues, staffers and the press. It's small wonder that sometimes they don't know whether they're coming or going. The other day, we queried Rep. William Henderson, R-N.C., about his schedule. "What do you want me on for today?" we asked. Before checking with his secretary, Henderson replied: "I know I have one on today — it may panic."

— When Assistant Defense Secretary Richard Cheney was asked by an interviewer why the Soviets boycotted the Los Angeles Olympics last year, he suggested they were on for "deflections." "It's not for nothing," he said, "that a joke in the Soviet Union is: 'What is a Soviet doing apart?'"

Our small schools can be successful

Your views

ALVESTER SALMOND is a member of the Board of Education of Venice Community Unit School District 3.

On Oct. 2 in the Granite City Journal, I was mentioned as the only member of the Venice School District 3 Board of Education to vote against the appointment of Mrs. Lionel (Janet) Wiley to represent the district on the Madison County Reorganization Committee.

Let me say first that I am not against Mrs. Wiley, personally, serving on the Committee.

In my opinion, she is a wonderful mother and an outstanding citizen of the Metro-East area. With her qualifications and moral background, she could well represent any committee for Venice School District 3.

When I was first confronted about the reorganization committee, I thought I had made myself clear. If I did not, I am now publicly stating that I, as a board member of Venice District 3, am definitely against even the thought of the school district merging.

Many of us, even myself, frequently complain about the quality of education that small schools are now providing. But just think of the disaster we would be facing when our schools are grouped together.

Small schools can be successful. More time can be devoted to a student's individuality. Schools, in general, are to provide tools which our young people will be able to use in their upcoming lives.

We, as board members, were elected to represent the wishes of the people. Whatever you, as citizens, want should be what you get.

I strongly feel that questionnaires should have been sent to parents, and a public meeting held to hear your views.

The process we used for this appointment is the same process we use in the employment area. The majority of times, it results in the hiring of close friends, relatives or other constituents close to school administrators.

If and when this matter returns to the voters to make a decision as to whether or not our small schools should merge, I am hoping that each citizen will take a good look at what we would be subjecting our young people to. We, as poor or disadvantaged blacks and whites, cannot afford to be merged.

We would be hurt in this process. Right now, our small schools are the ones which get the least amount of school aid. It appears to me that the system wants to really make the amount smaller, by grouping all of us together, and make one small contribution to us, to leave still more aid for many larger districts.

Citizens, stop and think about what this process would do to our youth and our community as a whole.

When our students are at college level, we want them to be ready. We are now told that our students make the lowest scores on placement tests, and they now come from small classes. Larger classes would only make these scores lower.

Don't let our school legislators rob our students of their learning abilities. There is a cold world out there, and to be able to face it, our students must be equipped.

Again, I state my position as a school board member that I intend to represent the wishes of the people to the best of my ability. I am constantly investigating the quality of education that our students get and I will always be looking for the best for them.

I, at this point, extend an invitation to each parent and citizen of our community to visit our schools, attend our board meetings, and become more involved with the educational process of our children.

Without you, the people, all of the hard work of board members, administrators and teachers would be lost and our students would not have a chance to get a good education.

Whitaker 'sets record straight' regarding Granite City High School wrestling success

To the Editor:
I want to set the record straight. Robert Crider alluded in the Sept. 29 paper that "Smitty" put Granite City on the map in wrestling, and I owed all of my success to him.

I owe a great deal to Coach Schmitt, but I want to point out that Granite City had good wrestling teams before Coach Schmitt. We were sectional champs the year before "Smitty" came to Granite, and we had not lost a dual meet in 53 meets. We went to wrestling state. Good wrestlers in the "pre-Smitty" era were Walt Wilson, Tom Carmody, Paul Schuler, Charles Merzian (state champ in 1945 and

'46), Harold Ritchie, Carl Grunwald and Bill Haven (state champion in 1940) just to name a few.

As far as my success as a coach goes, I learned a lot from Smitty, but I also had two great college coaches — Jim Wilkinson at SIU and Harold Nichols at Arkansas State, who later coached at Iowa State and had numerous national champs. I was a two-time sectional champ in high school, one under Smitty and one before he came to Granite.

I have worked very hard to become a successful coach, and I have been fortunate to be associated with outstanding individuals as coaches and wrestlers.

My record speaks for itself. At North High School, we were 168-22-2. During the 1981 through 1983 seasons, we were 41-0, regional champs twice, sectional champs and holiday tournament champs.

We were rated by the Post-Dispatch as the number one team in the area. I have coached five league all-Americans, three junior league and two at the state level.

I am vice president of the National

Wrestling Coaches Association and have been on the executive board of that organization for four years.

I have a master's degree in education, a physical education certificate, a high school certificate, an administrative certificate, and I am qualified in social studies.

Let's check your qualifications, Mr. Crider.

Autumn's beauty exciting and relaxing

A drive through Missouri during the weekend reminded me this is the beginning of autumn and my favorite time of the year. Officially, by the calendar, the first day of autumn was Sept. 23.

Cruising along the highways, one sees the beautiful change nature takes with the new season, turning vivid green leaves to yellow, rust and orange shades just before they fall and leave the trees bare, awaiting the winter season.

We hear so much about stress and live and work at a fast pace. This is about the easiest way to relax I know of, at least for me. There is a feeling of peace and contentment to be among the unsaturated acres of wooded lands, vistas that have only their beauty to offer.

There are many places that can be visited, driving through the country or walking in the parks, to view the autumn changes and realize how beautiful America is in these cool, crisp fall months.

I guess the rolling hills in Missouri are especially exciting to see. For awhile, you drive along a flat highway, with the wooded sections on a level with the road. Then, all of a sudden, you are on top of a hill. The view, extending for many miles into the distance, is breathtaking.

Columnists' club

Tall spruce, pine, dogwood and gum trees and many other species provide state-of-the-art scenery. The forest areas still appear to be green, and yet now you can begin to see the subtle changes in color that are the forerunners of winter.

Another drive I particularly like is along the scenic Great River Road leading to Grafton. For a while, the river is on one side, dotted with sailboats and cruisers, and there are high rock bluffs on the other.

Some miles later, the craggy rocks become smaller and greener overpowers the landscape. Many tall trees and small bushes along the shoulder of the roadway are sprinkled with old-fashioned wild flowers.

I like to stop for lunch in Grafton and then wander to the open air market on the main thoroughfare. There, you can purchase freshly picked apples, homemade jams and jellies as well as syrup in pecan, maple and strawberry flavors. This is a simple but wonderful way to spend a leisure day.

For the more adventuresome person, you might continue to Pere Marquette State Park for a nature walk, stopping for refreshments at the park lodge that overlooks the river before you return home.

There are many other places to visit in the state at this time of the year if you want to drive farther.

Two things combine to make the lower tip of Illinois one of the world's most colorful areas in autumn. More than 200 kinds of trees and shrubs produce a great variety of colors.

And the steep hillsides allow visitors to see the sides of tens of thousands of them.

The Illinois Department of Conservation monitors and reports fall leaf color as it develops throughout the state.

As of Oct. 4, interested persons can telephone 1-217-785-4503 or toll free 1-800-222-8486 for a recorded statewide leaf color report and an indication of the anticipated forest fire danger rating for the upcoming weekend.

For those who prefer to travel with others, you may want to organize a group for a bus trip and visit the southern portion of Illinois. Fall tours of this type are offered by Wayman Presley.

From Oct. 10 to Nov. 10 is usually the time to find the best autumn scenery. Reservations are available by contacting Presley's Tours, Makanda, Ill., 1-618-546-0704.

Whenever or wherever you go this fall, chances are the Midwest will provide a fine opportunity to get close to nature, and to a pleasant state of mind.

Newspaper not in gossip-spreading business

Spreading gossip isn't our business.

Some people would like it otherwise, like G.I. Hatepeople, who visited out office the other day.

"G'mornin'!" I said, but I was thinking, "Not again."

"Good morning, indeed!" she snapped, eyes red-rimmed in anger. "Do you think it's good that a city official is getting romantic with an employee?" B.Z. Body told me about it and I believe her.

"Never really thought about it," I admitted, wondering about which city she was talking about.

"What are you going to do about it," she growled.

"Well, nothing, really," I said. "I mean, I can't see how it's news."

"But what about their destruction of our moral system?" she protested.

"Ma'am," I said. "For one thing, I might disagree in principle to what you say is happening, but if it doesn't affect their work, I'm not interested."

For another, you don't have a shred of evidence other than what Mrs. B.Z. Body said. And everyone knows she has a vendetta against city hall since the zoning application for her planned pickle plant was pitched."

"I'm shocked," she declared.

"Look, I think what you really want to do is something constructive. Why not help some nice civic group, like the United Way?"

"Don't tell me what I want to do," she snapped.

I sighed. "Anything else?"

"Well, since you won't do anything about the city love nest, my neighbor's son is an alcoholic. Why, just the other day..."

Middle School football team plan continues

By DONNA KIMBRO

MADISON — Board Member Don Garrett inquired Thursday night about progress in establishing a football team at the Madison Middle School. Tentative plans for a team had been considered a year ago. After a discussion, School Supt. John Falchert said he will talk to faculty members and report back at the next board meeting.

Dolores Folkerts, curriculum director, said she is applying for several grants for the district. The board previously discussed the status of negotiations with teachers on terms of a new agreement. Falchert said the negotiations are continuing.

APPROVAL WAS GIVEN to purchase a copier from American Photo

Copy Systems. Costing $4,990, it will be used at the Madison Board of Education office.

In line with plans to provide a copy machine in each school building, board members agreed to transfer the present copy machine from the board office to Madison High School and a smaller model to Madison Middle School.

Bills in the amount of $75,503 were approved for payment.

Falchert reported the student hearing committee recommended a pupil be returned to regular classes after completing one more day in a detention class.

IN RESPONSE to a request from Evelyn Bowles, Madison County clerk, the board agreed to allow use of the Blair School gymnasium as a polling place for voters in Venice Township Precinct 4.

The board authorized an Easter Seal Society fund campaign in February and two field trips for students at Harris School, one to the Mills apple orchard and another to the Losch pumpkin field.

A fund-raising project, sale of bumper stickers inscribed with "I Love Madison Sports," was approved. It was proposed by Gloria Smith, a physical education teacher at the permission to attend a workshop in Chicago.

Falchert introduced the name of a man to be considered for the position of assistant basketball coach and Garrett asked that the information be given to the personnel committee for its recommendation prior to board action.

Ice rink rental starts Oct. 12

Also, the park district offers to park district residents a special birthday party plan. The rink may be rented on Monday through Friday from 3:45 to 4:45 p.m., or at any time when it is available for birthday parties. The fee is $50 for up to 20 skaters, with a $1.30 charge for any additional skater. The park district will provide each skater with a hot dog, popcorn, soda and skate rental.

For more information and available ice time, persons and groups may contact the Wilson Park office at 877-3059. The rink will open for public skating sessions on Friday, Nov. 1.

Park ID cards at town building

The Granite City Park District will make identification cards at the Granite City Township Building Wednesday, Oct. 9, from 9:30 to 11:30 a.m.

The Wilson Park office staff will take a camera and all necessary supplies to the center to accommodate those whose cards have expired or those who need an ID card. This was done three years ago and those cards need to be renewed at this time.

Most of the card is $1 and it is valid for three years. In order to obtain a card, each person must present proof of residence in the park district. This can be done with a current utility bill such as a phone bill, sewer bill or rent receipt.

Objects to lack of school bus service

Concerned because her children aren't getting bus service to Webster School, a mother has sent her youngsters to school in three weeks. Joan Spahn, 2233 Washington Ave., said Thursday she moved to her new address three weeks ago. Her son and daughter had been going to Nierdinghaus School.

I called the principal at Webster School and he said I would have to fight the state of Illinois," Spahn said.

A state law says districts are not required to provide bus service to students who live less than 1.5 miles from the school.

A secretary on the board of education said there is no bus service to Webster School at all, as all of the students are in that 1.5-mile radius.

Spahn's son, Christopher, 8, has a hearing problem and her daughter, Holly, 6, has asthma, and she is concerned over having them walk the seven blocks to school, especially when the weather gets colder.

"I know I might get in trouble for not sending them to school," she said. "But I have no way to get them there. I'm a single mother and I work. The person who was taking her to school had a car accident recently."

Spahn said she would likely appear before the school board to talk about the matter at the Oct. 22 meeting.

Bid on police cars accepted

By SUSANNE INDELICATO Staff writer

GRANITE CITY — Six new police cars will be purchased for $67,200 by the council Tuesday.

The cost of the six 1986 Ford Crown Victoria cars includes an allowance for old patrol cars to be traded to the dealership.

The aldermen also decided not to accept bids for the sale of two motorcycles, and instead chose to use the vehicles as trade-ins for two 1985 Honda solo motorcycles costing a net total of $5,400 and an MCI three-wheel police motorcycle costing a net of $7,896. The motorcycles will be purchased from Granite City Honda, the only dealer to submit a bid for motorcycles.

The police car budget still has a surplus of $4,747, while the budget surplus for motorcycles is $1,405, according to Alderman Woody Moad, chairman of the police committee.

The purchase of police cars was debated last year when aldermen suggested the specifications set for the bidding were unfair because not all of the local dealers could meet them.

No limits on wheelbase standards were set this year, Moad said, enabling more dealerships to bid on the cars.

TELEPHONE CONTRACTS
A seven-year contract on the city's telephone access line was approved by the aldermen.

Revision in Sr. Aide sponsors

A revision in the Senior Aide Program was announced by Mayor John Belloff at the Madison City Council meeting Sept. 24.

He said the city has been utilizing the services of senior citizens from AARP (American Association of Retired Persons) and Belleville Area College (Retired Senior Volunteers) programs, but a city is permitted to participate in only one such program.

Presently, the city has seven people involved in the AARP program, they work at the city hall, the two Madison recreation centers and the fire department. This program will continue, the mayor said.

Three senior citizens working through the AARP group will be placed elsewhere, he added.

A letter from State Rep. Sam Wolf informed the council that Taracorp is seeking permission to store waste at the 16th Street and Cleveland Blvd. plant site. Although this is not within Madison city boundaries, the aldermen agreed the city attorney should investigate and report his findings at the next meeting.

Belloff announced that he and Venice Mayor Tyrone Echols, Granite City Mayor Von Dee Cruise and State Sen. Sam Vadablene will lead a bike-a-thon Oct. 12 to raise money to assist two Madison boys who are victims of muscular dystrophy. Bicyclists participating in the fund project will travel along Third, Sixth and 12th streets.

The mayor will meet with Larry Hartman, city attorney, Casper Nighossian, formerly the city attorney, and a representative of Tulsa at the Stephen Matras in conjunction with the city's past annexation of the plaza area to Madison. The annexation has been challenged.

Belloff said he met with Wayne Lanter, Robbie Robbins and Rick Tulka at the Stephen Matras in Industrial Park to discuss a proposal by Lanter to purchase railroad property adjacent to the industrial park.

Southwest Steel is to meet with city officials on relocating ditches near its property.

Belloff said the Madison fire alarm was checked and returned to service. It will be activated at 9 o'clock each evening as a warning for the 10:30 p.m. curfew. The mayor voiced appreciation to the Granite City fire chief for sending an aerial truck utilized in repairing the alarm.

a bulletin board in the hallway giving historical trivia and listing birthdays.

She has also served as a treasurer for the PTA, on the district's curriculum committee, and as the kindergarten representative on the district's testing committee and language arts committee.

Knight spent 18 of her 23 years as a first-grade teacher and one year in fourth grade. She is in her fourth year as a kindergarten teacher.

She found first grade to be the toughest.

"There were so many materials to use," she said. "But the one thing I miss from first grade is teaching children to read. It's a real thrill when they start the year without that ability and then you see them progress."

Kindergarten, on the other hand, has been much more demanding physically.

"THERE ARE NO breaks," she said. "You have to stay with the kids for two hours and 45 minutes straight. It is possible to leave the first graders for a few minutes, but not the kindergarten children."

The first few weeks of the new school year are especially interesting in kindergarten because many of the children are away from their mother for the first time.

"It's really not that bad, though," Knight said. "Some children don't cry as much as the mothers do. Academically, we don't get too much accomplished the first two weeks of the year, but after that it begins to pick up. I really don't have any bad crises this year."

Knight started her teaching career at Nameki Elementary School in 1964, moved to Parkview in 1965 and then moved to the Westchester Public Schools in Chicago in the 1968-69 year.

She came back to Parkview in 1969, went to Wilson School in 1971 and then taught at Johnson School from 1972 until 1983, when Johnson closed. She split the 1982-83 year between Johnson and Nierdinghaus, teaching at Johnson in the morning and Nierdinghaus in the afternoon. This is her third year at Mitchell.

Knight went to junior college at Mt. Vernon (Ill.) Community College. She received her bachelor of science degree from Murray State University in Murray, Ky., and her master of science in education from Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. She lives in Edwardsville with her husband, Richard, who works for Monsanto in Chesterfield, Mo., and their two children, Brett, 17, and Shana, 8.

"I BELIEVE in children," she said. "It is our responsibility to maintain and increase their abilities if we can."

"We have to accept the children for their present worth and their individual differences and to plan meaningful programs to meet their needs."

"If we invest our time and talent to add purpose and pleasure to each day, encourage them to attempt new challenges, and encourage them to set new goals, then we will receive the benefits when they grow up."

OTHER FINALISTS are Ray Althoff, sixth grade, Edwardsville; Bonnie Bray, vocal music, Maple Park; Barbara Gilhaus, home economics/adult living, Broadlands; Thomas Lundgren, health education/family life, Rockford; Betty Peterson, business, Morrisonville; Maxine Pyle, business/computers, Johnston City; and Randy Steinheimer, fourth grade, Aurora.

Last year's Illinois Teacher of the Year was Robert Maguire, a high school art teacher in Cahokia.

One finalist was taken from each of six areas in the state, with two runners-up.

could be called if it is decided to name a new director before then.

"Hopefully, we can come to a decision on the new director," he said. "We have some excellent candidates for the job. We came up with some additional questions about the role of the parks in the community for the second interviews and I hope we can come out of them with a good idea of who to take."

The salary of the new director will be open to negotiation. Nolan was making $23,160 per year when he resigned. Brown is working on a salary of $350 per week.

Retired federal employees fight off pension cutbacks

Chapter 1067, National Association of Retired Federal Employees, following a two-month summer recess, has resumed regular meetings at Charlie's Restaurant. President Gerald Walters reviewed "coordinated efforts taken and credible arguments presented" in Washington, D.C.

NARFE officials and members at local-chapter levels nationwide led a successful fight against the Reagan administration's February 1985 budget proposals which singled out civil service retirees for monetary delays and reductions not required of other groups, Walters said.

"NARFE members must remain knowledgeable about their entitlements, and ever aware of threatening encroachments. They must be ready to defend themselves with accurate facts and statistics."

"I strongly urge members to carefully read their issues of Retirement Life, which contains articles of extreme importance to their well-being," Walters said.

First Vice President Dale Rortner added that Pres. Reagan is expected to present the same proposals for the 1987 budget as were rejected by Congress for 1986.

"The role of NARFE-PAC (Political Action Committee) continues to be an important one," he added.

In accord with a chapter vote, the

Birger chosen as SIU trustee

A Collinsville auto dealer has been appointed by Gov. James Thompson to the Southern Illinois University Board of Trustees.

Barney Birger, 68, president of BBB Cadillac and Oldsmobile in Collinsville, was named to fill a position on the board vacated by Crete Harvey.

Birger's term is effective immediately and runs until Jan. 19, 1987.

The fiscal year 1986 budget approved by Congress just before its summer recess included a number of actions which will adversely affect the salaries and pensions of current and future federal employees, it was related.

Service Officer Georgina McMillan said she has received a new publication from NARFE headquarters, giving questions and answers on federal employees' and retirees' life and health insurance programs. The publication is available for review by members upon request.

Mrs. McMillan cited an article that reviews the six requirements, in order to merit survivor benefits, which must be met by divorced spouses of federal retirees.

The next meeting of NARFE will be held at 11:30 a.m. Oct. 14 at Charlie's. Any retired federal employee wishing information about joining NARFE may call 876-9450.

COIL-LESS TRUCK: "I was only doing three miles an hour, but it was enough to upset the apple cart," says the driver who lost his food of a 19710-pound coil of Chestnut and Niedringhaus. He was just starting his trip Tuesday from Heidtman Steel to Jefferson City, Mo., when the coil "rolled off the truck smooth as could be."

FOUR INJURED IN 4-CAR PONTON ROAD COLLISION

Four persons were hurt Sept. 19 in a four-car accident on Pontoon Road at Nameoki Road. Injured were Geraldine Conley, 50, of 2904 Northbridge, Patricia A. McMillan, 36, of 36 Eduardo Drive and passengers in a car driven by Yong Sun Gibson of 3905 Gaslight Walk, Pontoon Beach. The passengers were Barbara Gibson, 3, of 3905 Gaslight and Myong Parnett, 38, of 2321 Paul St. The driver of a fourth vehicle, Howard Hamilton of 921 Reiss Road, was unhurt. Conley and Gibson had stopped for traffic when the McMillan vehicle struck Hamilton's car; the latter hit Gibson's auto, which then hit Conley's car. Authorities were told Conley, Barbara Gibson and Parnett were transported to St. Elizabeth Medical Center by ambulance.

PRINCIPAL TO TALK WITH PARENTS OF TWO YOUTHS

The parents of two Coolidge Junior High School students were to hear from Principal Mike Sikora following a Sept. 20 incident there which, witnesses said, potentially might have resulted in serious injuries to one youth.

When a fight broke out in a hallway during a break period, a teacher saw a youth, 13, holding over his head a second youth, also 13, whose head was pointing toward the floor.

It appeared the first student was getting ready to slam the second youth to the concrete tile floor, the teacher said. She yelled for him to stop and, with the assistance of another teacher, she separated the pair. In the school office, the first youth again tried to "go after" the second boy and was restrained by the principal.

TRESPASSING ALLEGED

David A. Ray, 17, of 708 N. 26th St. was charged with trespass to property and a curfew violation at 2:55 a.m. Sept. 21 at the Norfolk and Western Railway right-of-way near 26th Street. He was released to his parents.

CONTROLLED DRUG MISSING
A thief took 975 milligrams of a controlled substance Sept. 27 at St. Elizabeth Medical Center. A small quantity of the drugs was found in a restroom.

Motion dismisses home burglary charge

A residential burglary charge against Clyde Jines, 39, of Washington Park was dismissed Aug. 30 following a motion by the Madison County State's Attorney's office.

10 YOUTHS ARE ARRESTED FOR POSSESSING CANNABIS

Ten Granite City youths were arrested Sept. 27 in two separate incidents involving cannabis possession charges. Policemen saw five 16-year-olds and a 14-year-old boy enter a van in the 3100 block of Fehling Road; one of the youths was holding a hemostat with a lighted filter cigarette in one hand and a hand-rolled cigarette in the other hand. An odor of cannabis was evident inside the van, police alleged.

About the same time, two 15-year-olds, a 16-year-old and a 14-year-old were near a concession stand in Wilson Park. One youth was holding a hemostat and a cannabis cigarette.

While they were walking the group toward Fehling Road, officers said one of the youths ran toward State Street and entered a vehicle. The car was stopped by a policeman.

BURGLARY AT CAR AGENCY

Burglars broke a glass pane in an overhead door of the Granite Chrysler-Plymouth agency, 19th Street and Grand Avenue, and forced a door to enter the building Sept. 27. Drawers were pulled out of office desks and then searched. An inventory was taken to determine what items were missing.

MAN INJURED IN ACCIDENT

Marilyn Schott, 31, of 3715 Rut St. was injured Sept. 24 when his car was hit by another. Deputies said he had stopped his westbound auto on Pontoon Road to turn left onto Joyce Street. A westbound vehicle driven by Mark Horvath, 21, of 195 Sunny Shore Mobile Home Park, was attempting to pass another vehicle when it struck Schott's car in the left front, pushing it 90 feet from the point of impact. Horvath was given a ticket for improper passing.

OFFICES BURGLARIZED

A worker at Guarantee Electric, 1500 Grand Ave., reported Sept. 23 a burglar broke into the building and ransacked several offices. An unknown amount of petty cash was taken.

GIRL HIT WITH GLASS ROD

Carla Obenhaus, 18, of 2152 Macle Ave. was hit with a glass rod by a 16-year-old high school student Sept. 23. She was on the way to her dorm when a girl approached her and struck her with the rod. A fight ensued and was stopped by a teacher.

ARRESTED AS PROWLER

Fred White, 17, was arrested Sept. 25 after he allegedly was seen prowling near a vacant apartment in the 1700 block of Kirkpatrick Homes. He was charged with possessing cannabis, resisting a peace officer, violating the curfew, prowling and trespassing.

QUICK-CHANGE NETS $150

A quick-change artist got away with $150 from a Granite City bank Sept. 27 after asking a bank teller to change several bills for larger bills. The heavy-set man was about 6-2 in height, wearing a blue shirt and dark trousers. He had a mole on the right cheek.

RADIO AND CB STOLEN

A radio, a citizen band radio and a speaker were taken from a car parked at 2211 Washington Ave. Sept. 24. The owner was Cindy Rutter of that address. The burglar damaged the dashboard of the car while forcibly removing its radio.

STATE ISSUES DUI CHARGE

William J. Conner, 19, of 209 Wilson Park Lane was charged with driving while under the influence of alcohol after Illinois State Police stopped him at Route 203 and 20th Street Sept. 21.

TRUCKER REPORTS THEFT

Seven pairs of blue jeans, seven blue work shirts, several pairs of socks, underclothing, a tote bag, prescription eyeglasses and a 6-inch black and white television set were stolen from the parked truck of Donald Pullan of Clarinda, Iowa, Sept. 21 at the Gateway Midstate Truck Plaza.

DUI AND LICENSE CHARGES

William "Bull" Lucas, 39, of 123 Carver St., Madison, was arrested Sept. 27 for driving while under the influence of alcohol. Madison County authorities arrested him near St. Elizabeth Medical Center. He also was "ticketed for not having a valid driver's license."

COPPER WORTH $1,500 GONE

A pile of copper valued at $1,500 was taken Sept. 28 from Bi-State Automotive, Box 45, Rural Route 1. It was reported to the Madison County Sheriff's Department.

DRIVER INJURED IN CRASH

Ronald L. Jones, 31, of Lebanon, Ill., was injured Sept. 19 when his car was involved in a crash at Madison Avenue and 25th Street with the auto of Virginia M. Heins, 2500 Center St. She said she was southbound when Jones attempted to make a left turn.

School gang crackdown laws signed

Seven new laws signed last week seek to improve discipline, combat gang crime and address problems related to child abuse and alcohol, and substance abuse in Illinois' public schools.

"Too many of our schools have become a haven for gangs and disruptive students. Behavior considered criminal on the streets is too often considered a fact of life in classrooms," the governor said. Gov. James Thompson signed the seven-bill package in Chicago during the afternoon session of "Building Better Alliances Toward Better and Safer Schools," a statewide conference on school discipline co-sponsored by the governor, the U.S. Department of Justice and the U.S. Office of Education.

Among the bills signed at the conference were:

• Senate Bill 983, authorizing school boards to train school staff who work with kindergarten through eighth grade students in the detection, reporting and prevention of child abuse. It is effective Jan. 1, 1986.

• House Bill 50, requiring schools to teach students in kindergarten through eighth grades how to avoid being abducted or sexually abused. It is effective Jan. 1.

• House Bill 123, establishing demonstration projects in three school districts to reduce gang crime activities by teaching positive social skills such as leadership training and organizational and personal development.

HB 123 also allows transfer of funds from a school district's building fund to its education fund if the move is approved by voters in a referendum. This provision applies only to counties with a population of between 600,000 and one million residents. The bill is effective immediately.

• Senate Bill 202, creating the Alcohol and Drug Abuse Education and Prevention Act. It provides the Department of Alcohol and Substance Abuse with authority to implement a statewide substance abuse prevention program in elementary and secondary schools, effective Jan. 1.

• House Bill 2162, amending the Criminal Code to provide that carrying or possession of certain weapons in the building or on the grounds of any elementary or secondary school, community college, college or university is a Class 4 felony after Jan. 1. It exempts law enforcement and security officers and firearms used for activities conducted with the consent of school authorities. Thompson signed two bills with changes. They were:

• Senate Bill 206, increasing from a Class A misdemeanor to a Class 3 felony the penalties for unlawful sale of firearms to juveniles. He recommended that the act of "giving" a gun to a minor be added to "selling" language of Chapter 38, Section 24-3(a) of the Unlawful Sale of Firearms statute. It is to be effective July 1, 1986.

• Senate Bill 207, expanding the offense of compelling people to join an organization with the addition of a threat of doing bodily harm as a crime. The actual act of doing bodily harm to compel a person into joining a gang is already a crime.

SB 207 also makes possession of firearms on school property a Class 4 felony and toughens penalties for violations of firearms and drug laws, making them criminal rather than juvenile offenses in court.

The previous week, Thompson approved HB 2162, which addresses the problem of firearms at schools in a more comprehensive way. He recommended deleting provisions of SB 207 which are inconsistent with the House bill.

Another recommended change in SB 207 deals with the penalty for sale of firearms to a minor on school premises. SB 207 establishes this new offense as a Class X felony.

"This penalty is out of step with similar offenses," Thompson said in his amendatory veto message. "For example, this bill would make possession of a weapon on school premises a Class 4 felony. This offense should be a step higher — a Class 3 felony. Further enhancement of the penalty may result in more plea-bargaining and may make convictions actually harder to obtain." It is to be effective immediately, subject to General Assembly consideration.

HUDSON FAMILY standing in the newly redecorated Hudson Ltd. Store in Belleme Village Shopping Center. The facility has been closed since a late-December fire and the owners are preparing to celebrate over 40 years in the jewelry business. From left, David and John Hudson with their parents, Rosalie and Virgil Hudson.

Store marks 40 years

A family-owned business, Hudson's Jewelry, is celebrating over 40 years in Granite City as professional jewelers. Its address is 3244 Namecki Road.

Virgil Hudson became acquainted with the jewelry business in 1944 as he worked with his father, the late Roy D. Hudson, in a tiny shop at 1915 State St.

The business grew, and in 1954 Virgil and his wife, Rosalie, opened a small jewelry store in the first major local shopping center, Belleme Village Shopping Center. A few years later, it was completely remodeled and enlarged to its present size.

Lifelong residents of Granite City, Mr. and Mrs. Hudson said they have enjoyed serving the public in this area and are continuing with the Belleme location.

Hudson Jewelers Ltd. has employed many people in this area and the manager, Bob Nickles, has been with the company for more than 20 years.

According to the owners, the store is aggressively involved in the highly competitive diamond market. To accomplish their goal of marketing quality merchandise at prices attractively below average retail prices, Hudson said he is offering substantial savings and trusts the customers will find his policies to be in their best interest.

The store is now open again after being closed due to a fire in the shopping center last December. The store has been recognized by several leading jewelry magazines as being one of the most beautiful in the industry. Hudson said the deep plush carpet and the rippling water fountain combined with the overall atmosphere and friendly employees are intended to make shopping there a pleasant experience.

Mr. and Mrs. Hudson are the parents of two children, David and John, who both attended Granite City schools.

David also graduated from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology and later received a doctoral degree in physics from Washington University. He lives in Granite City with his wife, Diane, and their two children, Lisa and Ian. He owns his own business, known as Intelligent Devices.

A graduate of Southeastern Travel Academy in Florida, John worked for a year for the ITL Television Network in Charlotte, N.C. He recently joined Hudson Ltd. and is studying gemology at the present time.

GC trucking firm expands

Wingline Trucking Inc., with corporate headquarters presently located on Chain of Rocks Road, Granite City, has announced completion of an extensive expansion and diversification program.

Edward Scott, president and chief executive officer, said the expansion provides additional services both for local and interstate trucking companies represented by Wingline.

Scott said an increase in employment has resulted, encompassing neighboring communities such as East Alton, Wood River, Roxana and Bethalto, and the company has established a satellite facility in Gaston, Ind., to provide services to the Indianapolis and Ft. Wayne areas.

He also announced the opening of the Wingline tractor-trailer repair facility at the corporate headquarters here, with plans presently being formulated for further diversification.

Scott said, "Wingline's progress is wholly due to providing satisfactory service to the industry. Recent requirements to expand and diversify were necessary to continue to meet the demands of the trucking industry, to stimulate the area's economy, and to provide employment opportunities."

"Additionally, Wingline has adopted a new logo of W.T.I. corporation for the corporate headquarters."

Althoff's ground crusade dooms Warriors

By JAMES BLASINGAME
Staff writer

GRANITE CITY — In football, they say that the best defense is a good offense. Friday night against Granite City High School, the Belleville Althoff Crusaders proved it, as they marched to a 28-21 victory over the Warriors.

In the early going, the game showed signs of turning into one of those last-act contests — the kind where teams swap touchdowns for the duration, and the winner is determined by who scores just before the final gun sounds.

It would have been fun, but when Althoff took the field after intermission, the Crusaders decided to sit on the ball for a while. In fact, the Crusaders hogged the pigskin for 11 of the 12 third-quarter minutes, and gave Granite City just three offensive plays.

Althoff's backfield tandem of Juan Cox and Chad Mueller churned out eight first downs, ate up 126 yards in the stanza, and took a 21-14 lead into the final period when Cox went in from three yards out.

In that fourth quarter, the teams traded possessions before the Warriors took over at their own 20 after a missed Althoff field goal. Six minutes and 12 seconds remained in the contest.

Quarterback Timmy Hogan, still determined to make it a high-scoring affair, hit brother Jamie at mid-field on the first play from scrimmage, and the slinky flanker dashed into the endzone. Ryan Weeks booted the point after, and the game was knotted at 21 with 5:55 left.

But once again, the Crusaders put together an 80-yard scoring drive that took up three minutes of the clock and took the wind out of Granite City's sails.

The big play came when Cox exploded for 50 of his 169 yards rushing in one carry. Cox's run moved Althoff to the Warrior 30. Several rushing plays later, the Crusaders were faced with a third and nine at the Granite City 16.

When it appeared that the Warrior defense had finally stopped the running game, Althoff went to the air. Quarterback Jim Monken lofted a 16-yard TD pass to tight end Kevin Gagen, and the Crusaders were on top to stay.

For the game, Althoff had 291 yards rushing, 270 courtesy of Cox and Mueller.

"Well, it's about time," said

Crusader coach Glenn Schott after the game. "We had difficulty moving the ball this year. We got 149 yards (rushing) against (Belleville, 20-7 loss) West last week, and we felt like we wanted to get it (the ground game) going again tonight. We started something last week, and we wanted to continue it."

For Warrior coach Ron Yates, the onslaught of the Crusader running-backs wasn't quite as welcome. Yates has seen too much of that already this season.

"They (Althoff) have two good backs, but it seems like everybody's got a good running game against us. We haven't stopped anybody," Yates said. "They beat us in the pits. Their offensive line came off the line faster than we did all night."

The Crusaders were also the first to get on the scoreboard. After receiving a Warrior punt, Althoff took over at its 37 and rolled upfield on carries by Mueller and Cox. The nine-play, 63-yard scoring march was capped off by Monken's sneak from the two. Mueller was stopped short on the two-point conversion attempt, and the Crusaders led 6-0.

And then came what may have been the biggest series of the contest.

The Warriors took the ensuing kickoff and went to work at their 37 yard line. On the first play, senior halfback Pat Keeling rambled 28 yards to the Althoff 35. Two plays later, Jamie Hogan hauled in a strike from quarterback Timmy for a first down at the Crusader 10.

On first and goal, Keeling burst up the gut and stretched the ball out in front of him to cross the plane of the goal. With Althoff tacklers hanging on him, Keeling lost his grip on the ball as he hit the ground.

Instead of ruling that Keeling's knee had touched at the one yard line, or that he had indeed crossed the goal line with possession of the ball, the officials didn't rule at all. Althoff recovered the "fumble" in the endzone, and took over at its own 20, despite the pleas, appeals and demands from a flabbergasted Granite City offense and coaching staff.

"That one play in the first quarter...they (the officials) said he didn't have control, but I saw the ball in his (Keeling's) hands," said a disgruntled Yates.

"I have a feeling I'm gonna get very mad when I watch the game film. Either it's our ball on the one yard line or it's a touchdown they

(the officials) take away from us."

"It was so early in the game (4:40 first quarter) that after a few series you could forget about it. But it's as crucial in the first quarter as it is in the fourth," Yates said. "Who knows what happens if we score then. You have to assume we score the other three (TD's). I guess."

The Warriors' other score also came in the second quarter. A fine punt return by Jamie Hogan and a facemask penalty on the play, gave Granite City a first down at the Althoff 39. Halfback Fred Becker ran for eight yards, and Dave Tatum followed up with a 17-yard burst. Three plays later, senior Ron Owens bulled his way in from the one to give the Warriors a 14-6 advantage.

The advantage was short lived. Mueller galloped to the Granite City 46 on the kickoff return, and after four rushing plays, Cox squirmed in from the five. The Crusaders tied the score when Monken connected with Terry Reno in the endzone for the two-point conversion. The first half ended in a 14-14 deadlock.

For both squads, Friday night was an important contest. Althoff brought a 1-4 record into the game, and the Warriors entered at 1-3. For the Crusaders, it was a step in the right direction. For Granite City and Yates, it was a disappointment.

"We needed it (the victory). They played better than us, I guess, but it was pretty even-steven," said Yates. "Both programs needed the win. They were 1-4 and we were 1-3. We both needed it, and they got it."

By GARY KING
Staff writer

GRANITE CITY — The Arlington Golf Course served as the site of the Southwestern Conference Golf Tournament on Thursday.

As tee-off times neared all six SWC teams had the same thing in mind, they all wanted the cherished conference title.

Granite City entered the match as the apparent frontrunner for the top spot. However, the Belleville West Maroons decided to play the role of the spoiler.

The Maroons earned top honors in the title match as they posted a 317 team score. Granite City finished a close second with a 321 mark, while Belleville East scored a 330. Rounding out the scoring was Alton with a 331, Collinsville with a 364, and East St. Louis with a 440.

The Warriors, who tied for the crown last year with West, were victimized by a bit of bad luck early in the contest.

On the third hole of the front nine junior Bill Gaumer, an intricate part of the squad, broke his putter. Although Gaumer usually posts one of his team's top four scores, the absence of his putter cost him several strokes.

More importantly, it cost the Warriors a victory. Granite City coach Russ Chappell took the loss hard, but was very pleased with the play of Eldon Depew and Mike Wilkinson.

"I'm very disappointed with the loss. We needed some help that we weren't able to get today. I really thought we should have won this thing. But, I was awfully pleased with the way Depew and Wilkinson played," said Chappell.

Depew and Wilkinson have been a very pleasant surprise for the Warrior team this year. They both posted tournament high scores of 78, one shot ahead of Todd Pollock. Kevin Gooley, and Mark Mason all of Belleville West.

Wilkinson, a freshman, still sees hope for the Warriors in regional play.

"I think we've got a good chance at the regionals. Getting out of sectionals will be tough but we can do it if we play up to our potential," said Wilkinson.

Chappell, however, is somewhat less optimistic about his squad's chances of advancement.

"We're a very dark horse in the regionals, we'll really have to play super to get out of there. I'd imagine we'll have to shoot a 215 or better to get to the sectionals," said Chappell.

Granite City will be joined in regional action by Belleville West and Belleville East. The match will be played next Thursday at the Cardinal Creek Golf Course situated on Scott Air Force Base.

The Warriors still have two regular season contests remaining. Granite City was to play in the Invitational on Saturday and will end the season Tuesday against Mascoutah.
